

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened easy, October 16.60, December 16.52, January 16.55, March 16.78, May 16.98.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Alabama weather fair tonight. Wednesday local thunders—, gentle variable winds.

ELECTION DAY PASSES QUIETLY IN THE TWIN CITIES TODAY

SIGNALS TO STOP PLACED ON STREETS OF CITY OF ALBANY

Passage of Ordinance Is Followed Today With Signs

PROVISIONS TO BE ENFORCED

Citizens Declare The Move Will Be Beneficial

Big, white "Stop" signals are in evidence on Albany streets today, following the publication of Ordinance 470, designated to control difficult traffic conditions in this city. The ordinance was passed at the last meeting of the Albany city council.

Various streets are designated in the ordinance and the "stop" signals will warn drivers against violation of the law. It is understood that the signals will be retained from time to time to aid drivers not familiar with the laws in this city.

Ambulance drivers, fire trucks and physicians are not included in the rigid restrictions while making calls. The fire truck must follow the signals as directed on returns from calls, however.

In answer to the plea of merchants regarding the congested traffic on Holly street, coming into second avenue, the following provision was entered in the ordinance: No vehicle shall be parked on Holly street for a distance of 75 feet from the curb line, on the east side of Second avenue, east, for a longer time than five minutes at any time. And, no vehicle shall be parked on said Holly street, east of said 75 foot limit, except parallel with the curb and on the south side of said street and not more than 12 inches from the curb.

Fine for violating any of the provisions of the ordinance is placed at not more than $50, upon conviction.

Particular attention is focused upon the rules and regulations regarding the turning in the middle of blocks. This is strictly against the law, vehicles must be turned at intersections of streets. Right and left hand turns can be made.

The restrictions are believed by city councilors to be a move toward removing present traffic obstacles and are regarded by drivers as a needed remedy.

MANY VOTES ARE CAST THRU MAIL

Absentee Ballots To Play Important Part In Races

The absentee vote in Morgan county this year is likely to settle the exceedingly close race which is being fought.

County officials today estimated at probably 300 ballots were cast by mail. A total of about 250 absentee ballots had been received by noon today at the probate office. It was estimated that between 30 and 50 absentee ballots had been received at Hartselle by D. Wiggins, county democratic chairman.

The absentee votes were being distributed today to the boxes here for tabulation, along with the remainder of the vote.

YOUNG IS ILL

E. G. Young, member of the Y. S. Pison Ring company is confined to his home on Ferry street, Decatur, with illness. Mr. Young was taken in Brown's ambulance to the offices of Dr. Hugh Green today afternoon for an x-ray examination. Later he was returned to his home.

Solve Mystery

"Poison pen" letters threw an entire neighborhood into panic. Then New York police arrest "Mlle. X," who proved to be Thomas Moorehead, sixteen, and the letters stopped. He is shown with a detective.

MISS MIHAM IS RETURNED HOME

Victim Of Crash Is Believed On Road To Recovery

Miss Lena Mae Miham, injured some weeks ago in a fearful automobile accident on the Florence Athens highway which cost the life of one and injured six others, was returned to her home in Tusculum this morning, relatives having come to the Benevolent hospital for the girl. For a long while the girl lingered between life and death, having been unconscious for more than 231 hours. She sustained a fractured skull at the base of the brain and was brought to the local institution in an unconscious condition.

Hospital authorities, to whom Miss Miham owes her life, today declared that the girl had regained her powers of speech and seemed normal.

Relatives took the girl home in an automobile, an ambulance not being necessary.

Streets Will Be Blocked At Six

Second avenue, main Albany thoroughfare, will be blocked to traffic from the hours of six o'clock until late in the night, as far as Holly street, the permit having been granted some weeks ago by the Albany city council. J. N. Hendrix, chief of police, said today that wooden "horses" will be used to divert traffic. The blocking of the street will have no effect upon pedestrians, but will keep all vehicles out of the election area.

General Motors Takes a Decline

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—(AP)—A sudden raid on the high price industrial shares brought about a series of sensational decline on the New York stock. Dupont 15 1/2 to 295 and U. S. Iron Pipe 8 points to 235, while dozens of others fell back to seven points except for the announcement of an increase of nearly $87,000,000 in brokers loans and the week ended July 23 there was nothing in the days news to explain the sudden selling movement.

PATTERSON, HERE FOR SHORT TIME, THANKS FRIENDS

Efforts Have Been An Inspiration, He Declares

THROAT SORE, IS ADMISSION

Otherwise He Says He Feels Well After Gruelling Fight

A. G. Patterson, Morgan county's entry in the gubernatorial campaign, spent a short time mingling with friends here this morning, leaving later in the day for Birmingham, from where he will go to Montgomery to await, with his family, the decision of democratic voters in today's primary election.

While here, Mr. Patterson expressed his appreciation for the support which had been given him by his home county and for the efforts which were put forth in his behalf by his friends. He expressed also his appreciation of the support of The Albany-Decatur Daily.

"Regardless of the outcome of today's balloting, I want my friends to know that I deeply appreciate the support they have given me," declared Mr. Patterson. "The loyal efforts in my behalf in my home county has been an inspiration to me throughout the campaign and I want the people here to know that I am deeply appreciative."

Mr. Patterson, while somewhat hoarse from the constant speaking, largely in the open air, shows very little effects of the gruelling campaign through which he has just passed. He admitted that he felt well, with the exception that his voice is husky and his throat somewhat sore.

Steel Shows An Immense Increase

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation on July 31 made public today totalled 3,602,522 tons, an increase of 123,880 tons compared with the figures of the preceding month.

The gain was the first recorded by the corporation this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Hosey, of Cullman, were here today for a short visit, preparatory to removing to Albany, where Mr. Hosey has accepted a position as cashier of the Southern Cotton Oil company.

Today:

By ARTHUR BRISBANE. (Copyright, 1926, by The Star Co. For Albany-Decatur Daily).

In offering Mr. Brisbane's daily editorials The Daily does not necessarily concur with his opinions, but offers them as the sentiments of the highest paid editorial writer in this country.

THE Knights of Columbus most powerful organization in the United States, excepting perhaps the Anti-Saloon League, demand that President Coolidge intervene in the war between church and state in Mexico.

The appeal, sent by the Knights of Columbus' "Supreme board of directors," asks that the embargo on shipping arms into Mexico be set aside, cites the case of Russia as similar to that

DEMPSEY REFUSED LICENSE TO FIGHT WITH GENE TUNNEY

Phelan Says Jack Must Comply With The Regulations Of New York Athletic Commission.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey was refused a license temporarily to fight Gene Tunney for the world's heavyweight championship at the Yankee stadium September 16.

Colonel John J. Phelan, chairman of the license committee, said that Dempsey's application had been deferred, pending his compliance with the rules of the New York state athletic commission, relative to defense of championships within six months after winning, or defending the title.

The decision came after the committee had been in session for nearly two hours and had had the situation presented them by Dempsey, Gene Tunney, the challenger, and also Harry Wills, the giant negro, who has been clamoring for a match with Dempsey.

Dempsey, Tunney and the negro all individually appeared before the commission.

The sudden action of the committee, in refusing to grant a license to Dempsey, threw Tex Rickard's plans for promoting the fight up in the air.

Rickard had hoped to stage it in the Yankee stadium on September 16. He had arranged to place seats on sale immediately and also had decided to appear before the commission and ask for permission to charge $50 a seat price.

TWO NASHVILLE BANKS ROBBED

Official Killed Early This Afternoon By Bandits

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 10.—(AP)—One bank official was killed and another shot when seven men held up a branch of the Fourth and First Bank and Trust Company at First and Woodland streets at 1:20 o'clock today, and escaped with approximately $2,000 in currency.

While officers were being rushed to the scene, a second robbery was reported at another branch of the same bank at Ninth and Monroe streets.

Telephone People Will Help Daily

The Southern Bell Telephone company is cooperating with The Daily in order to facilitate the collection of election returns. Various exchanges in the county will remain open during the evening to speed the tabulations to The Daily. Local operators also will be on the job to get the calls through as speedily as is humanly possible.

Voters Clash At Wheeler Precinct

SHEFFIELD, Aug. 10.—(AP)—An almost unequalled rush to the polls this morning in Colbert county resulted in disturbance at the Wheeler precinct, in this county, when two men went together on a political issue. They were quickly separated and voting continued. A tussle at every precinct has been noticed.

Prohibition, Religion, Rats, Gin, Gasoline. The Al-Cal Conspiracy.

of Mexico, and reminds the president that this government has refused to recognize Russia's government.

It is true that Russia has treated religion and the Russian priests with scant courtesy, even posting up outside Russian cathedrals the sign, "Religion is the opium of the people," meaning that the business of the priests, as the czar's agents, was to keep the people submissive in their misery.

But it is not because Russia offended religion that this government refused recognition to Russia's government. It was

JUDGE IS ACCUSED IN GEORGIA SUIT

Breach of Promise To Wed Alleged By Miss Collins

ATLANTA, Aug. 10.—(AP)—A suit for $50,000 for alleged breach of promise to marry has been filed in federal court here by Miss Virginia Collins, of Cincinnati, against John S. Wood, judge of the superior court of the Blue Ridge circuit. The case has been set for trial on the first Monday in October.

Miss Collins, in her petition, alleged that Mr. Wood promised to marry her on May 27, 1925, and frequently until March 21, 1926, expressed an intention to carry out his promise.

She charged that since that date he refused to communicate with her to answer the communications which she sent to him.

The petition sets forth that Mr. Wood, on May 23, 1926, married Miss Louise Jones at Canton, Ga.

Before his appointment as judge, Mr. Wood was solicitor general of the Blue Ridge circuit.

SITUATION MORE TENSE IN MEXICO

Calles Today Issues His Bitterest Statement

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 10.—(AP)—The situation arising from the government's religious regulations and their rejection by the Catholics today became more tense and more complicated.

President Calles issued his bitterest broadside against the Catholic clergy in a statement to an American "Good Will Mission."

He charged the clergy with seeking wealth and political power, causing revolution and bloodshed and using their pulpits for seditious speeches, while keeping the masses of the people ignorant.

The Catholic episcopate continued unyielding in his refusal to accept the government regulations; there was no move to return to the priests to the churches, and the deadlock was apparently absolute.

Fire Record In August Is Good

The record of the Albany fire department during the month of August, in the language of the vaudeville comedian, is "not good, it is perfect."

During the month, so far, not a fire has occurred to disturb the tranquility of the department personnel nor mar the clean record on the bulletin board.

ELECTION ROLE OF KLAN IS WATCHED INTEREST TUESDAY

National Offices Are Said To Favor Musgrove

VOTING BEGINS AT HEAVY RATE

Record Total Looked For As The Day's Fight Waxes

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 10.—(AP)—Whether the national headquarters of the Ku Klux Klan can control its membership in Alabama in-so-far as their suffrage at the polls is concerned, was expected to be determined here today in the democratic primary.

The national headquarters of the secret order openly espoused the candidacy of L. B. Musgrove, Jasper, candidate for the United States senate to succeed Senator Oscar W. Underwood.

The Alabama Klan generally is reputed to have supported Hugo L. Black, Birmingham, for the place. The national Klan endorsement of Musgrove came in the closing hours of the campaign and was in the form of a statement from Dan Sullivan, representing Washington headquarters.

He said that Musgrove was in high favor with the Klan because of his unrelenting fight on Senator Underwood, who was characterized as an arch foe to the fraternity.

Another national issue was injected at the last moment when Bibb Graves, Montgomery candidate for governor, charged that the larger papers of the state were attempting to "hog tie" Alabama for Al Smith. The candidate charged that these publishers of these papers, in the last democratic national convention, attempted to swing the body to Smith.

One publisher said that the charge was without foundation and the other publisher ignored it. Election officials said that the voting started heavier than ever before known, which was indicative of the general interest.

The weather was fair and the temperature high. Women were taking lively interest and candidates are looking for their vote to wield a powerful influence in the result.

Webb Speake Rests Well At Hospital

Webb Speake, prominent merchant of these cities, is declared resting well at Baugh's Infirmary today, having successfully undergone a serious operation. Hundreds of calls have been answered at the hospital and at the Speake home from friends who are anxious to know the condition of Mr. Speake.

DONATE DRINKS

L. R. Nash, manager of the Coca-Cola Bottling works today informed the Daily that he would contribute considerable beverage to the election workers at the Daily office tonight. Mr. Nash has adopted this method as an annual custom and is assured of being well received by employees at work serving the public.

ELECTION RETURNS

The public has been invited to attend the Daily election party tonight, beginning between six and seven o'clock, at the Daily office. The management today requests that all persons not workers in the compiling of election returns will kindly remain on the outside of the offices to allow workers freedom in their efforts to serve efficiently. Returns will be flashed on the outside immediately after they are received in the office.

Faced Quiz

Ralph V. Goraline, former vestryman at Rev. Edward Hall's church at New Brunswick, N. J., was to be examined in the investigation of the murder of Hall and Eleanor Mills, choir singer, for which Mrs. Hall was arrested.

BLOW ON THE HEAD FRACTURES SKULL

Earl Furgerson Rests Well Following An Operation

Earl Furgerson, Ardmore man, is resting well at Baugh's Infirmary today after having undergone a successful operation, performed by Dr. Baugh after the man had sustained a fractured skull in an alleged altercation which is declared to have taken place Monday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock at Ardmore.

It is understood that Furgerson was struck over the head with a club, the blow costing his powers of speech. Hospital authorities stated today that Furgerson seemed to understand what was being said to him, but was unable to talk.

The man arrived here last night aboard the Pan American and was rushed to the hospital in Brown's ambulance.

Bank Resources Gain a Billion

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Total resources of the 7,987 National Banks in the United States, Alaska, and Hawaii on June 30 the close of the fiscal year, aggregated $25,315,624,000 an increase of almost $1,000,000,000 over a year ago, it was reported today by the comptroller of the currency.

Paul McComber Is Resting Quietly

Paul B. McComber is declared to be resting quietly at Baugh's Infirmary today. Physicians do not hold any hope for the recovery of Mr. McComber. The man is declared to have swallowed poison on Saturday while en route to Birmingham.

Peay's Lead Now Given As 7,856

NASHVILLE, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Complete and official returns from 89 of the 95 counties in the gubernatorial primary of August 5 give Governor Austin Peay a lead of 7,856 votes over his leading opponent Hill McAllister, state treasurer. The vote stood as follows: Peay 91,592, McAllister 83,736.

The counties not heard from were in east and middle Tennessee. Dr. John R. Neal was third in the race with a light vote.

ENORMOUS VOTE EXPECTED TO BE CAST IN MORGAN

Deep Interest Helps Bring Out Voters Over the County

RURAL AREAS ALL BALLOTING

Showers Expected To Cut Total Little In the County

Morgan county today was polling what probably will be one of the county's largest totals in many years. Election day estimates placed the vote at 4,500 and more in this county.

The day dawned bright and fair and, although the weather man had predicted showers for Tuesday, weather conditions were not expected to be adverse to polling a heavy vote. The work of the farmers now is so well advanced that the elections will cause little interference. Every rural section of Morgan County was expected to cast nearly a full vote.

In the Twin Cities, the active campaigns waged by the various state and county candidates has created deep interest in the outcome of the races and polls were busy scenes of activities from the time they opened until early this afternoon. There was little congestion at any of the polling stations, despite the length of the ballot which made the marking of the ticket a slow process.

The election was passing very quietly and without any disorder whatever, in spite of the intense interest in the outcome.

The state races this year had a peculiar interest to the people of Albany and Decatur, inasmuch as A. G. Patterson is a candidate for governor and Judge Thomas W. Wert a candidate for attorney general. These facts caused local residents to have a personal interest in the returns from every box in the state and the first flashes of results were being anticipated eagerly.

The county and circuit races also were being watched closely here. The closeness expected to be developed in some of the campaigns has led all kinds of conjectures and forecasts. Little actual betting has been done on any of the races, it was declared in political circles. Some of the partisans were said to have made freak bargains, involving various and sundry "stunts" to be given by the losers should their favorites be beaten.

The count of the ballots tonight was expected to proceed slowly. An average of about four minutes was expected to be consumed in the tabulating of each ticket. Some election officials believed this time could be reduced, but others were not so optimistic.

Miss Masterson Slightly Hurt

Miss Louella Masterson is recovering from slight injuries incurred in an automobile accident Sunday on the Decatur-Courtland highway north of Trinity. Other occupants of the cars were uninjured, but the cars were considerably damaged, it is said. Anna Margaret Arnold, Mattie Masterson, T. G. Masterson and M. Q. Brown occupied the Masterson car. The other car is declared to have been driven by a negro.

ABANDON SWIM

DOVER, Eng., Aug. 10.—(AP)—George Michel of France and Issac Helmy of Egypt today abandoned their attempt to cross the English Channel after swimming for 13 hours. They started from Cape Griz Nex France last night.

Get Your Election News From The Daily---Free

Daily News Letter

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population

By THOMAS R. CURRAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES—The Charleston and the St. Louis hop are passing out in the movie colony. Motion picture stars and players, who are always first with the latest, have returned to the glide waltz and the dreamy, Argentine tango. "The new dances, slow and dreamy, are a natural reaction," Mae Murray, famous for her interpretation of the Merry Widow waltz, declared today. "I welcome the change as the very fast dances were getting monotonous."

Joan Crawford, another movie actress, is entirely won over to the waltz and the tango even though she has been a consistent prize-winner in Charleston contests. "The slower dances are more graceful," Miss Crawford explained.

"The new dances will be very popular, I am sure," Claire Windsor declared, until the tide changes in favor of something newer and absolutely different."

Lou Tellegen, noted lover of the stage and screen, former husband of Geraldine Farrar, the singer, has turned director. He will handle the megaphone for "My Wife's Honor," a Fox film.

A large number of directors have been screen actors at one time or another. Hobart Henley, director of Ramon Novarro's starring vehicle, "A Certain Young Man," was once a star, and King Vidor, Edward Sedgwick, Victor Searstrom, King Baggott are but a few who have forsaken the grease paint for the megaphone.

James Cruze and Edmond Goulding were actors before they became directors.

John Gilbert, however reversed the process. He was a director before he became a popular leading man.

The only difference between foreign directors and American directors is in the handling of the camera today. The foreign director never for a moment allows his audience to lose consciousness of the camera. He uses strange angles and trick shots.

"The American director, on the other hand, tries to make his audience forget they are looking at something a camera has produced."

Richard Barthelmess, well-known motion picture leading man, will probably make his films in Los Angeles from now on. His next picture, "Four Feathers," will soon start production here.

Walter Camp, Jr., president of Inspiration Pictures in New York City or Southern California, declared that his company "will practically be forced to produce here because of the superior conditions. The availability of all types of actors, the variety of locations and accessibility of props, etc., gives Hollywood an advantage with which New York cannot compete."

Harry Langdon, moon-faced comedian, is going in for athletic comedies. Langdon has just completed "The Strong Man" in which he acted as an assistant to an old-fashioned weight-lifter. The preceding picture was "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," and Harry became quite a pedestrian while trudging before the camera over hill and dale.

Charles Bilpin, the greatest negro actor of today, has arrived in Hollywood to play the lead in the film adaptation of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

The roles of Eve and Topsy are as yet unfilled.

"Women make better comic actors than men, because they have a subtler sense of humor."

That from Sam Taylor, who has been signed to direct the famous stage comedienne, Beatrice Lillie, who deserted the English company playing "Charlot's Revue," for a movie job.

"Men are too broad in their comedy," the director explained. "Louise Fazenda, now supporting Marion Davis in 'The Red Mill,' was one of the first to sacrifice her beauty for a homely makeup and a good laugh."

A SCHOOL PROGRAM FOR OUR HEALTH

Six Points of Hygiene Are Emphasized by Washington Expert as Necessary in Any Plan to Improve Community Welfare.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

DR. COPELAND

IN a Washington paper the other day I read a report of a public meeting held to consider health matters in the public schools. Superintendent of Schools Frank W. Ballou, outlined his ideas of an adequate health program for the public schools. Dr. Ballou mentioned six points which he considers essential. They are as follows:

1. Medical inspection and examination of every pupil entering the public schools.
2. Recording of the physical defects found upon examination.
3. Correction of defects by doctors, nurses and dentists, and by a health training program in the schools.
4. Appropriate instruction in health training.
5. A systematic course in health teaching, extending through the elementary and high schools.
6. Reasonable insurance placed on the correction of physical defects as one of the prerequisites to promotion to grade, and graduation.

Two or three years ago I quoted Dr. Ballou, and at that time expressed approval that the head of a great school system should have such accurate knowledge of the physical needs of his pupils. Too often the schools teach everything except how to live. They teach the natural sciences, literature, history, mathematics and the languages. I admit at once the importance of such of these subjects, but all of them put together mean nothing to a graduate, who is without health. All the degrees in the world and the possession of a Phi Beta Kappa key will not recompense for a broken body.

If there could be insisted in the curriculum of every school instruction in sanitation and personal hygiene, I have no doubt that the sickness and death rate of this country would be greatly reduced.

It is essential to the highest degree of community progress to have a perfect co-operation between the health officials and the educational authorities. The importance of this is shown by Dr. Ballou's insistence upon recording physical defects, having them studied by the medical officers, and then having the educational authorities insist upon the correction of physical defects before promotion is had from one grade to another.

It is not uncommon to require good health before issuing "working papers." By this I mean that if a child is under the necessity of seeking employment before he reaches the age when he is free from the obligation to attend school, he must have evidence of having had treatment for any physical defects. Glasses must be fitted if they are needed. The teeth must be put in proper condition. Discolored and decayed canons are removed and a physical examination determines whether the lungs and heart are normal.

I suppose when we are really civilized there will be such strict attention in every home to the diet covers and correction of physical defects that governmental interference will be unnecessary. Until that happy day arrives, however, I hope the school and health authorities will heartily co-operate in order

Pertinent Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a young girl fifteen years of age and have been going with a young man three years my senior. A few days ago we were invited to a party. During the evening he got peevish about something and left. He didn't tell me he was going home and I had to return home alone.

Should I continue his friendship?

BETTY BLUE EYES

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: There is nothing the young man can say to you now which would serve as an adequate apology for his ugly conduct.

RAINSPUT IN HUNGARY DESTROYS WHOLE TOWN

By International News Service BUDAPEST. A rainspout coming without warning has killed seven people at Eger in North

Hungary. He has been inexcusably rude to you, and you must cross his name from your list of friends.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

What is a proper way to invite boys to call on you? Is it improper to ask young men to ride with you when you are in your own car?

BROWN EYED

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: You may write the young man a cordial note telling him you will be glad to have him call and naming the date, or you may telephone him. The former, however, is preferable.

Hungary and destroyed all the buildings of the town.

The rain crushed many of the houses as if they had been paper and in rushing down the valley swept hundreds of head of cattle and trees before it.

TRADES ASSOCIATION MAKES KNOWN GOOD ROADS PROGRAM

Through Routes To Connect All Of The Important Towns In The State Will Be Paved Now, Gravel Others

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Aug. 9.—(AP)—A summary of the highway program of the Alabama Automobile Trades Association has just been issued here, based largely on the three months study of Alabama's road problems by H. Eltinge Breed. Facts adduced by Dr. Lee Bidgood, dean of the School of Commerce and Business Administration at the University of Alabama after a thorough study of highway planning are also used as a basis for the report.

The association stands for a construction of a unified or connected system of highways not divided equally among all the counties regardless of their needs, but according to sound engineering, deciding what roads should first be connected and what types of roads should be used according to density of population, car registration, assessed valuation of property and probable growth of the community.

Some of the other recommendations follow:

Through routes to connect all the important towns in the state, and to be paved now.

Connecting or secondary routes leading to the through routes—to be built of gravel now, and every county to be included in the finished system and served according to its real needs.

The heavy increase in traffic that will come with the connecting of important points with paved roads will increase the revenue from the gas tax and car registration, thus providing additional funds for the extension of paving on the secondary system in order of importance. Unconnected stretches of paved road with mud sloughs between them now prevent the roads from earning the revenue they should.

To preserve the scenic beauty and safety of Alabama's roads, rigid laws should prohibit entirely the erection of billboards and the use of advertising matter along the state and county highways.

The present plan of administration should be altered by putting a high type engineer in full administrative control of the entire state highway department.

An advisory highway commission should be appointed composed of one business man, one banker and one university engineering professor, to act in an advisory capacity only.

Aim to minimize the intrusion of politics into road work.

Financial plans should be made for only a four-year period, because that is the length of a political administration; the citizens

A playground track meet will be held at Mungler Bowl, Birmingham August 28.

H. MULLEN

Plumbing

Steam and Hot Water Heating Experienced and Reliable

Phone 64-222 Grant St.

CALL ON J. E. SCHNELL

at Twin City Blacksmith Shop, E. Moulton St., Mr. Schnell is a first class mechanic and for horse-shoe shoeing none better

All work guaranteed to please

Prices Reasonable.

MITCHELL & WRIGHT

THE LOST WORLD IS FINE PICTURE

Large Audience Is Present To See Performance

"The Lost World," child of the vivid imagination of Sir Arthur Conan-Doyle, played at the Princess Monday night to one of the largest crowds ever assembled in the theatre. The picture, based upon ancient historic geological fact, was perhaps the greatest production from the standpoint of magnificence of production ever produced in the movie world.

The giant mammoths of prehistoric era, operated by mechanism and men were so perfectly handled as to seem absolutely life like, the animals breathing, eating and moving naturally as if the race

Tanglefoot Fly Paper catches both germ and fly. It's convenient, sanitary and economical—the most satisfactory fly destroyer for use where foods are exposed to the air. It's cheapest by the carton. Every dealer has it.

TANGLEFOOT FLY PAPER
THE TANGLEFOOT COMPANY
GRAND RAPIDS, MICHIGAN

forgotten era did in reality exist in some undiscovered corner of the world. A delightful bit of romance winds its way through the maze of events depicting the prehistoric era.

The picture is playing at the Princess for the last time tonight.

Billy Sunday has been invited to Mobile by the Mobile Ministerial Union.

TELEPHONE
Albany or Decatur
1 4 0
0
for LIDE'S Instant 8
GOODBYE
Means Good W

Nominated!

FOR

More Milk

Cow Chow
AND Bulky Las

THE CREEKBOARD STORE ON THE CORNER

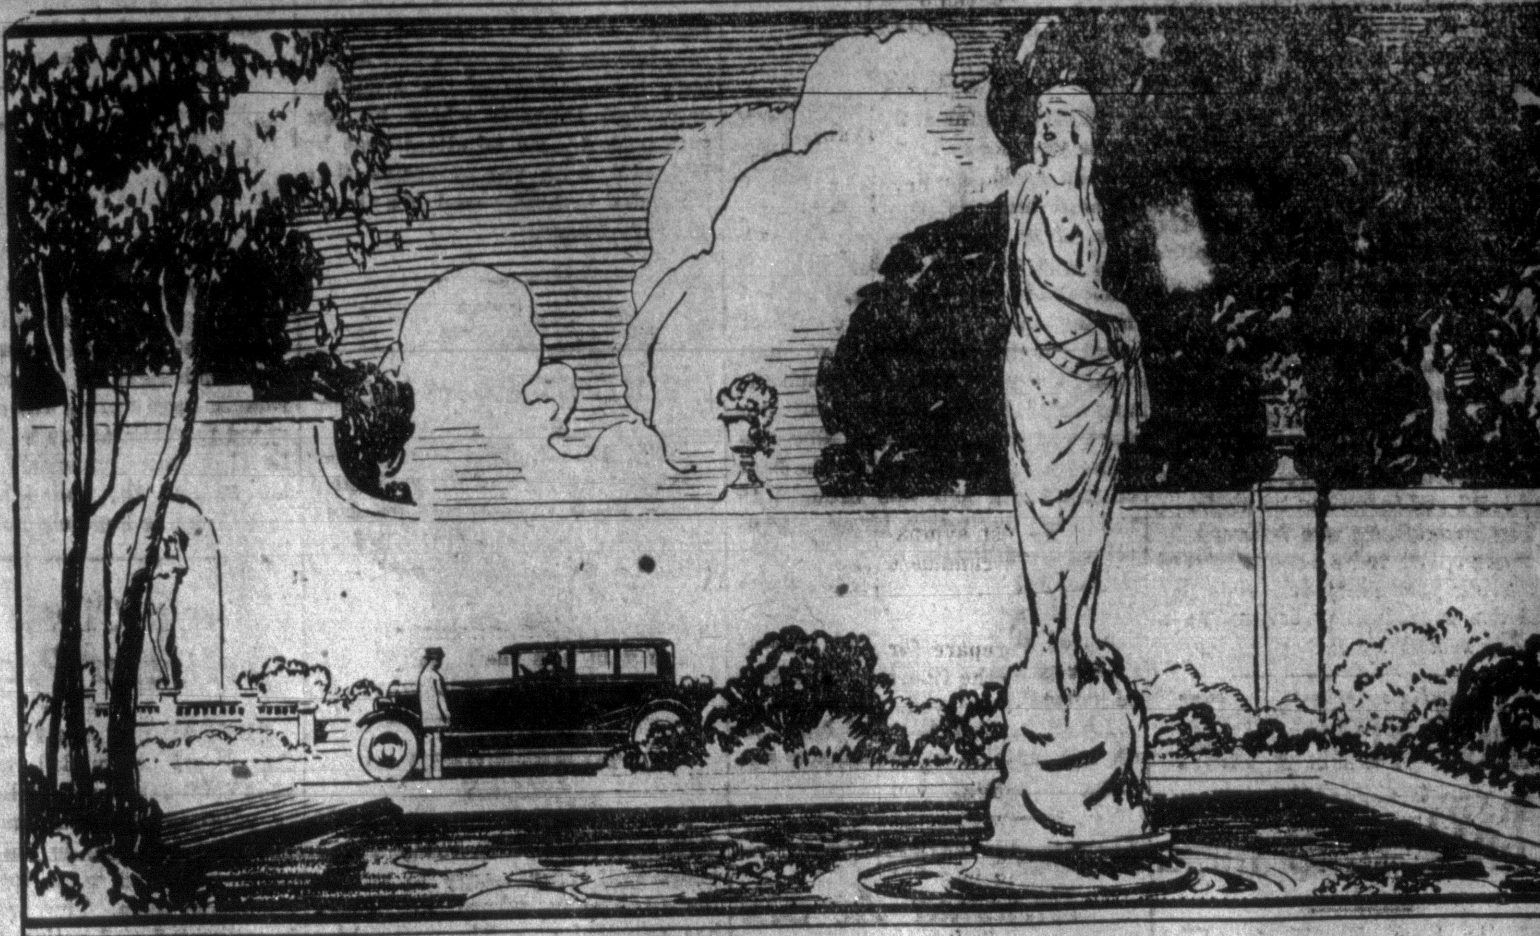

TURNER
COAL AND GRAIN CO

B. A. Turner, Pres.; Robt. J. Gray, Sec'y;

L. B. Smith, Treas.

FISHER BODIES

GENERAL MOTORS

THE NEW CARS—THE NEW BEAUTY

Body by Fisher is the outstanding charm of the new General Motors cars now commanding public attention. Into the new models, Fisher has introduced new standards of beauty to match the highest standards of safety, comfort and convenience.

As the new cars are announced, Fisher leadership becomes inescapable.

Look at the names—Cadillac, Buick, Chevrolet, Oakland, Oldsmobile, Pontiac—the greatest cars on the market in their respective classes—and attached to them the magic symbol—Body by Fisher.

Magic because Body by Fisher is the buyer's greatest assurance that here is supreme quality and value.

The Albany-Decatur Daily

418 Second Ave., Albany, Ala.

Published every afternoon, except Sunday, in Albany, Ala., by the TENNESSEE VALLEY PRINTING CO., INC.

Entered as second-class matter February 26, 1912, at the postoffice at Albany, Ala., July 1, 1917, under Act of March 8, 1878.

W. R. SHELTON Founder-Editor
1912-1924

E. C. SHELTON Managing Editor
BENJAMIN BLOODWORTH Editor
R. T. SHEPPARD Business Manager

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for re-publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published therein.
All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are reserved.

Telephone: Local 46 Long Distar : 9902

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
By mail, daily, one month .30
By carrier, daily, per week .15
By mail, daily, three months $1.50
By mail, daily, six months $2.75
By mail, daily, one year $4.50

TODAY 12 Years Ago

From The Daily of
August 10, 1914.

J. J. Sullivan, master mechanic of the Louisville and Nashville shops here, has resigned to accept a position with the N. C. and St. L. railroad.

Little Miss Mary Harvey was the first one to bring in a new subscription to The Daily in a contest inaugurated by this newspaper.

Rev. Harry Walden continues ill, although it is believed his condition is improved.

C. E. Layman, of Flint, was a visitor here today.

Miss Jane Harris has returned to Chicago after a few days visit with her aunt, Mrs. J. D. Jervis.

After all this stir and turmoil don't forget to go to the polls and vote.

Too bad they can't all win, inasmuch as everybody has the same platform.

Lessons are not needed in city building, it takes work, money and time.

Politically and thermometrically Alabama is considered quite above the average.

The day of days is here. All may be thankful election day does not come any oftener.

One more day and it's all over, the newspapers and the candidates will be the happiest of the lot.

Prepare now for the post-mortems and "I's" crying over spilled milk will now be the state indoor sport.

Now that the election is fading into the past, let us give renewed consideration to Echols Hill and Second avenue.

The Daily takes occasion now to express appreciation to the people over these counties who are aiding in compiling accurate election news.

There is one fellow who has our deepest sympathy. Imagine the feelings of a defeated candidate as he pays off his campaign bills.

One more day then back to business, prepare for the fall rush of trade that is heralded with the finest agricultural year Morgan county has ever enjoyed.

Don't be sour on the whole world because you think you are not succeeding fast enough, you measure your own progress, make your own steps.

The new Tennessee Valley Bank building is going to look mighty good on the corner of Bank and Vine, the cities are building everywhere, you can help with a good constructive word.

Whatever your political affiliation, you are cordially invited to attend The Daily's election "party." The admission is free. Take full advantage of The Daily's news service.

Constructive talk may sound like hot air in some quarters, but it usually leads to more than talk, that's why you should keep boosting your cities as the only cities in north Alabama.

The street cars fell victims of the automobile. Now Ford, principal manufacturer of cars, is experimenting with airplanes. Will the motor vehicles finally meet the same fate they dealt the trolleys?

When additional industrial plants are within these cities, when these cities rightfully take the name of the "Queen cities of the Tennessee Valley," when an increase in business reaches the 40 per cent mark, you have begun your task well.

TENNESSEANS TIRED OF THE SCOPES CASE, PRESIDING JUDGE DEFEATED.

The Scopes trial in Dayton, thought to be a vehicle for advancing some political fortunes, seems to have been a hindrance, rather than a help. Judge J. T. Raushton, who presided during that noted hearing, was defeated in the Tennessee election.

Dr. John R. Neal, who was chief of the defense counsel during the same trial, ran for governor and polled only a few more than 1,000 votes.

Tennesseans, one would judge, are tired of so much "monkey business."

GERTRUDE CONQUERS THE CHANNEL, AND REMAINS AN AMATEUR AS WELL.

The feat of Gertrude Ederle, 19-year-old American girl, in conquering the current of the English Channel, has amazed the world. The DeLand Daily News, however, sees in the accomplishment of the young woman a feat in sportsmanship, which reflects further lustre on Miss Ederle's.

"Women in sports," says The News, "while their field has been limited to the less strenuous, have piled up laurels aplenty. In swimming they have won particular fame. Imagine a member of the 'weaker sex' in continuous action in the turbulent waters of the English channel for 21 hours making progress toward her goal, fighting against strong breakers and traveling through fog in which the pilot boat was lost.

"And all this merely for glory, without monetary compensation. A fine type of sportsmanship, which it is doubtful if many men would volunteer to duplicate. Commendably, women who have won honors in sports have not commercialized their ability. They have remained in the amateur class and have eliminated the financial incentive for crookedness. In golf and tennis many women have shown outstanding ability, yet in neither of these has America a professional of the female sex."

The News' editorial compliment to Miss Ederle and to women in sports is well deserved. Yet it fails to take cognizance of the announced plan of Suzanne Lenglen, the French net star, to capitalize her ability and fame by making a professional tour of America. It fails to take into consideration the consistency of the refusal of Bobby Jones, Atlanta's golf champion to become a professional. The News paid a tribute to Miss Ederle and The Daily joins in the same thought, but The News forgets that we find real sportsmen and those who are willing to forsake their amateur status because of the lure of gold in all fields of sports and among participants of all classes and each sex.

THE DAILY WILL FLASH ELECTION RETURNS, FREE OF COST TO FRIENDS.

The Daily again extends you a cordial invitation to attend the election "party" this evening. At six o'clock the Associated Press leased wire will begin to bring, from every part of the state, its stories of successes and reverses in the political fighting of the day.

Regardless of political affiliation, The Daily extends you a cordial invitation to be present as these returns are flashed on the screen opposite The Daily office. The north Alabama returns will be handled as speedily as is possible to do so and The Daily hopes that every person present will thoroughly enjoy the service which it is the pleasure of this newspaper to give to the people of this section.

The Daily believes that the election service, free of all cost to its friends and patrons, is deserved by the people of Morgan, Lawrence, Limestone and Cullman counties who have given so much toward making The Daily a "home-town newspaper that is something more than just a home-town newspaper." It is a metropolitan service The Daily is offering free to the public this evening and the management of this newspaper trusts that every resident will take advantage of the opportunity to get the returns first, and accurately.

COTTON PRODUCTION ESTIMATE ON UPGRADE; PRICES ON THE DECLINE

The warning issued by farm leaders, early in the season, that a big cotton acreage this year, with resultant big yield, would cause a further depression of the market, appears to be working out just as these leaders predicted.

The government's forecast Monday, indicating an increased yield over what had been forecast by private agencies, was considered bearish and the market prices dropped.

In view of these developments, the importance of the recent meeting held in Birmingham to seek new channels for using cotton, appears enlarged. There is no way, apparently, by which the acreage and production of cotton can be curtailed. The crop, so typically a thing of the South and for the South, is so easily converted into cash that planters are not convinced it is to their economic benefit to curtail their cotton crop.

The only way out of the situation, as those who promoted the Birmingham conference have contended, is to find new uses for the staple, new channels by means of which the consumption can be increased. The hope for a lowering of production has faded.

ALBANY AND DECATUR OWE IT TO THEMSELVES TO LAND THIS PLANT.

The business men's committee, which has in charge the negotiations initiated by the Junior Chamber of Commerce with a large eastern industrial plant, looking to the removal of that plant to the Twin Cities, is deserving of the wholehearted support of every resident of Albany and Decatur. The Daily is pleased to state that it believes that support will be forthcoming at the proper time.

It is too early yet to prove whether or not the negotiations will be successful. There are many indications, however, that they will be and The Daily earnestly urges every person interested in the welfare of the cities to stand-by in an attitude of readiness to go the limit to clinch the plant.

It is significant that in the recent conference, held at the Y. M. C. A., every person present gave his solemn pledge to do whatever he could to advance the interests of the cities by obtaining the plant. That pledge was given after warning of its significance had been delivered by Chairman Fussell.

Amid the distraction of other interests, let the people of Albany Decatur remember that they are facing an industrial fight which they owe to themselves to win.

THE ELECTION PASSES QUIETLY, VOTERS CASTING THEIR BALLOTS

The sovereign voters of Alabama today are casting their ballots for their favorites in one of the warmest political campaigns in many years. The Daily hopes that the election passes quietly and leaves no scars whatever in its wake.

The campaigns have been hotly contested and partisans have worked diligently for the success of their candidates. Their day of labor, however, is past and it is to be hoped that the united democracy of Alabama now will turn its attention to the task of making this a better and bigger state in which to live.

Some people are already worrying about what is going to fill the newspapers, now that election time is nearly gone. So far as the Daily is concerned there is no worry, the city elections are just on the other side of the proverbial corner.

ANOTHER RECORD CROP

BOYS CLUBS TO CAMP AT "KI-Y"

Ford Arranges Outing For Youngsters at Vinemont

Probably 100 members of boys' farm clubs of Morgan county will leave early Wednesday for a camp at Ki-Y, near Vinemont. The camp, which will be under the leadership of J. C. Ford, Morgan county farm agent, will continue through Friday.

In addition to the 100 boys expected to attend, the fathers of about 25 of the youngsters also are expected to be present.

An interesting program has been arranged by Mr. Ford. Reports will be made by various club members on the progress of their work. Swimming will be a diversion and a number of games and stunts will be arranged.

W. C. Blassingame, of the state board of health, will be one of the speakers and inspirational addresses also will be delivered by Prof. Hayes, county superintendent of education in Morgan county and by Prof. Dowling, county superintendent of education in Cullman county. Moving pictures will be shown each evening.

Read the Albany-Decatur Daily, your newspaper, published in the interest of the people of the Tennessee Valley, in the interest of the upbuilding of the cities of Albany-Decatur, Ala. The Daily is a booster, help build this town with your boosting.

In the Morn

Fancy pajamas and elaborate cape form the mode for a morning stroll on the beach at Lido-Venice.

TODAY

(By ARTHUR BRISBANE)

(Continued from page one)

because Russia offended capital and outraged its poor feelings.

Childish American bankers bought millions of Russian bonds when the czar was on his last legs, and bought them even after he toppled into the grave. Russia refused to recognize those bonds, refused payment of all bonds; and that fact, not disrespect for religion, is the milk in the Russian non-recognition.

It appears that two issues, prohibition and religion, are to become more and more important between now and the 1928 election.

Senator Heflin, democratic senator from Alabama, says: "The wolves of Wall street would not let me have a chance inside the White House," which is true, and adds, "Al Smith has no more chance of a presidential election than I have."

THE Alabama senator goes on to say that "Al Smith, as an outstanding Catholic, is too closely allied with a foreign potentate."

President Coolidge takes life seriously laughs rarely. But he will laugh when he learns that Senator Heflin says that there is "an alliance between Al and Cal," meaning between President Coolidge and Governor Smith.

That lonesome pine tree in the North is not farther from the Southern palm than Cal from Al.

ABLE scientists gathered at Oxford to discuss many things, almost as far apart as "shoes and ships and sealing wax, cabbages and kings." They tell you that in all Britain there are fewer than 1,000 "idle rich." We can beat that in America, but all depends on your definition of "idle." "Definitions not average rich man's son, would amount to little.

British duke, or belted earl, pottering around, imagining himself busy with his estates or money, is as idle and worthless as one of our parasitical rich, watching his money grow, and groaning over taxes.

THOSE scientists discuss gasoline, and say it will all be gone soon, if Americans do not stop using so much of it. Let them cheer up. Americans will find a substitute for gasoline. They provided kerosene to take the place of whale oil, before the whales were gone, then provided electric light, before the kerosene was gone.

Enrolled in some public school in America sits the little boy that will solve the gasoline problem, in plenty of time.

THOSE scientists, ranging far was done in November, and, breathing in chlorin as they studied, not one of them lost an hour's work because of colds, influenza, etc.

COLDS kill millions of us every year, directly or indirectly, and it is safe to say that they weaken and shorten the lives of 99 per cent of all human beings.

It should be possible to find a gas, chlorin gas or some other, that, inhaled, filling lungs and respiratory apparatus, would destroy noxious germ life without injuring the main organism, as a slap on the hand destroys the mosquito without breaking the hand.

ARCHITECT

and

CONTRACTOR

Get It Right—It is Cheaper
W. L. CLANTON
Phone Albany 475 7-26-1 mo.

—Ask for—
ELECTRIK MAID
bake shop products
Bread-Rolls-Pies
Cakes, etc.

At Any Dealer or at
Our Retail Store

GET A NEW NESTLE CIRCULINE PERMANENT WAVE

$12

Phone
Albany 502
for appointment

The Nestle Circuline is one of the finest permanent wave machines money can buy. No pulling or burning. You can now have a permanent wave in perfect comfort.

ALLEN'S BEAUTY SHOPPE

219 Johnston St.

THE BALLOT BOX WOULD ELECT THE ICE BOX

ICE has never been voted out of office because there can be no economical, efficient, trouble-free substitute for it.

ICE calls for no big initial investment. There is nothing mechanical about it to get out of order.

ICE costs less and does what nothing else can do.

DECATUR ICE & COAL CO.

Phone Decatur 39

Wilder's hat values are so good that we sold every Spring Felt and Summer Straw we had. So you know there's nothing in the house now but Fall 1926 models.

New
Sure-Fit
Caps

New Fall
Oxfords

Pay your election bet with a

New Fall Hat

WE'VE GOT 'EM!

NO-NAME
$6
VANITY
$7

And if you do not lose a hat, you will need a new one for Fall anyway—and it costs no more to have early picking. New shades. Every hat guaranteed as to newness and quality. Why pay more than $6 or $7.

Men's Wear

Wilder's Albany, Ala.

SOCIETY

Margaret C. Shelton—Phone Albany 693

CLUB CALENDAR

FRIDAY

Rook shower for Miss Marjorie Pointer 10 a. m. Mrs. E. A. Fenell hostess.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Little Miss Betsy Townsend entertained Monday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Townsend, celebrating her 6th anniversary. The lawn of the Townsend home on Walnut street was decorated in pink and white which color scheme was carried out in all details. After the many lovely gifts of which the hostess was the recipient had been opened and admired, games were played and a flower contest held at which Little Miss Miriam Hunter was the lucky contestant. Late in the afternoon an ice course was served and the birthday cake was cut. As each guest departed they were presented with a basket which held candy and a toy. Those invited were Dorothy and Mary McClure, Mary Frances and Rebecca Pettey, Meriam Anne Schimmel, Virginia Dinmore, Sara Lue Greenhill, Frank Troup, Miriam Hunter, Bill Papenberg, Anne Frances Harris, Frank Regan King, Mary Frances Rauchenberg, Doris Widner Talley, Marjorie Worley, Junior Summers, Bobbie Strother, Annette Reams, Argie, Caroline and John Boggess, Mary Pruitt, Joe and Imogene Bugleson, Nancy Worth Jones, Mary Penick Jones, James Nelson Bloodworth, Doris Robertson, Johnny Smithers, Josephine and Ed Meinhardt and Elaine McElroy.

CIRCLES OF THE W. M. S. OF THE FIRST METHODIST CHURCH.

Several meetings of interest were held Monday afternoon by the circles of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Methodist church. Mrs. J. G. Finley was hostess to circle No. 1 with Mrs. G. D. Williamson leading. Bible Study was based on Luke 17: 1-10 and the subject was "Forgiveness and Humility." Members took voluntary part in the discussion. Mrs. S. D. Johnson led the prayer session. During the business hour which was presided over by Mrs. L. W. Lee routine matters were disposed of. One of the most interesting meetings of the year was held by Circle No. 2 at the home of Mrs. J. H. Day. Devotional was opened by song and prayer. The scriptural study was led by Mrs. D. D. McGehee and the references for this study were taken from Luke, chapter 17. Mrs. McGehee also led the study of the August "Conference Minutes." Those taking part in this were Mesdames J. H. Day, N. R. Carroll, C. O. King and Madgie Alexander. There was one guest present, Mrs. W. C. Roper was hostess to Circle No. 3 at which meeting Mrs. J. S. Robertson presided. The devotional was taken from the 6th chapter of John. The remainder of the meeting was given over to the regular monthly Bible study and was taken from the 2nd chapter of the "Story of the New Testament." Song and prayer formed a large part of the program for this circle. Plans were made for the quarterly special at which time Circle 3 will be hostess.

Mrs. Osceola Kyle and Mrs. Ponsomby Kyle and little son will leave Wednesday for Clanton, Ala., where they will be the guests of Mrs. Victor Heard for several days before continuing their trip to points in Georgia and Florida. Mrs. Osceola Kyle will be the guest of Mrs. Ponsomby Kyle at her home in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., for several weeks.

Miss Sara Blackwell will return the latter part of the week from Florence where she has been attending summer school.

Little Miss Dremen Garrison of Danville is the guest of Little Miss Doris Nunn.

Mrs. C. E. Howell and Mrs. J. A. Tidwell are the guests of friends in Barborton, O. They expect to be gone about 10 days.

Mrs. J. M. Derrington and children of Clarksville, Tenn., are the guests of Mrs. Derrington's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lawhorn.

Mrs. Carroll Cook and children and Talmadge and Robert L. Taylor of Nashville are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Smith.

Mrs. W. N. Cowden who is ill at the Benevolent hospital following an operation is reported as improving.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Talley and Miss Marie Talley have returned after spending some time at Elkmont Springs. Mr. and Mrs. Talley will be here about a week after which they will return to Elkmont for the remainder of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Talley and Miss Marie Talley spent Thursday in Petersburg, Tenn., visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. White of Atlanta are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Owen of Decatur.

Mrs. Roy Horton has returned from St. Louis where she was called by the illness of her sister.

Miss Babye Bess Bailey has returned after a short visit to friends in Birmingham.

Mrs. Foster Pointer and Miss Marjorie Pointer have returned after spending several days as the guests of friends in Nashville.

Mrs. Estelle Baker, Mrs. Amelia Troy, Miss Lily Himes, Hal Long and Welman Grubbs spent Sunday in Sheffield.

Mrs. O. R. Jonson of 505 Sherman street will entertain the Philathe Sunday school class of the Central Baptist church at her home Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Miss Lora Gillespie is in New York city at the fall markets.

Miss Margaret Harrison will return the latter part of the week from Florence where she has been attending the Florence Normal for the summer term.

Horace Winton is spending a week with relatives on Priceville Mt.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Woodruff and daughters, Arline and Beatrice, are the guests of friends in Texas and Oklahoma for a month.

Miss Mildred Thompson has returned to Birmingham after spending her vacation here with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Winton and children left Sunday for Semerville.

George Nunn has returned from Florence where he has been visiting.

Miss Ona Peck was the guest of Mrs. R. E. Nunn and Mrs. Robert Winton en route to her home in Huntsville from St. Louis where he has been taking a special course in music.

Miss Louise Almon who has been quite ill is greatly improved.

Mrs. Ethredge Adams has gone to New Orleans where she was called by the illness of her mother Mrs. Maud Barry.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Edmundson spent the week-end in Birmingham where they were the guests of Mrs. C. C. Sarraill.

Sidney Patterson is in St. Louis for a few days.

Mrs. C. E. Timberlake and son, Clarence Kent, of Stevenson, Ala., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ingold Timberlake.

BIRTH

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Avery Roberts on August 10, a 10 pound boy.

The Great Southern Highway Association has just been formed at Jasper.

You Know a Tonic is Good

when it makes you eat like a hungry boy and brings back the color to your cheeks. You can soon feel the strengthening, invigorating effect of GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC.

FAMOUS FRENCH RECIPES

BY ALICE LANGELEIR
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS.—"Eggs Rirette" make a good picnic dish. Boil hard as many eggs as needed. Cool and remove the shells. Cut each one into five or six rondelles. Remove the yolks, mash and mix with finely-chopped herbs and a good vinaigrette sauce with mustard.

Arrange the rounds of whites upon a dish and fill with the sauce.

Feminine Fancies

By Annette Bradshaw

WIDE NECKLETS VERSUS WIDER ANKLETS.

"I used to wonder how I'd ever be able to walk with an anklet, even though it was just a tiny narrow thing. But now that these wide ones have come into style I can understand how Grandmother must have felt, although her burden was all on her head and shoulders.

"Wonder whatever became of that adorable necklet and earrings? They certainly would match well with this gaudy anklet."

Should Love Break a Friendship?

A Frequent Cause of Heartache Sincerely Discussed.

By Annie Laurie.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

Can you help two miserable girls solve a problem that is rapidly making them tired of life?

I am a young girl in my early teens and have fallen in love with a boy about my age. My best girl friend has fallen in love with the same man. We have been very frank with each other and have confessed our love.

Now this man seems to like both of us. He takes both of us to dances, theatres and parties. Sometimes I think he likes me better, and sometimes I'm sure he is in love with me.

Oh, Annie Laurie, what shall we do? We don't want to break up this friendship of ours and neither of us has the courage to sacrifice her love for the other.

SINCERE BLUE EYES.

SINCERE BLUE EYES: You will have to clench your fists and blink very hard, little Blue Eyes, for I'm going to tell you the truth—and it isn't very pleasant.

In nine cases out of ten, when a man is wholeheartedly in love he doesn't rush any other girl but the lady of his heart's desire. He may meet other girls occasionally and stop for a chat, but he won't make it a point to take these girls to theatres and dances. So it stands to reason that a man who will be equal to two girls at the same time isn't smitten very hard with either. What is evident, is that the man you think you love considers both you and your friend worthy of his attentions, and agreeable company. He takes both of you because neither of you bore him, because you share his interests, and because he is proud to be known as a friend of yours.

But love? It hasn't entered the gentleman's head that he might be in love with either of you, or that you are in love with him.

You have to make up your mind to accept this young man as one of your many friends, or else to give him up altogether. Personally, I would go right on with the friendship and try hard to keep the "flirt" down. Don't let a love that doesn't exist come between you and the girl, who is your closest and dearest friend.

If both of you feel that it is too much of a strain to see this boy as often as you have without betraying your affection for him, make up your minds not to see him at all. At any rate, let me know what you decide to do and how the plan is working out.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl in my teens and I am deeply in love with a young man two years my senior, but he doesn't seem to care for me. I cannot go out with others, and have a good time as my thoughts are of him.

How can I gain his friendship or love? BLUE EYES.

BLUE EYES: If you are certain that this young man does not want your friendship, and is not interested in you at all, then you must try hard to forget him, my dear. But if you feel that he might be interested in you, although he is not in love with you, then you ought to invite him to call on you and encourage him to come frequently.

Annie Laurie welcomes letters on subjects of general or momentary interest from women readers of this paper and will reply to them in these columns. Letters should be addressed to her in care of this newspaper.

Paris Style Hints

By ALICE LANGELEIR

International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS.—A visit to any one of the leading Paris florists and a glance at any of the busy little flower-vendors all along the Boulevard, will tell anyone that there is a decided fashion for wearing the natural flower as a decoration both for the day and evening costume.

Who started the fashion no one quite knows. Perhaps it was the little midinette who stops at the corner flower-stall nearly every morning and puts on the finishing touch to her trig costume. For the past two years orchids and violets have been the only natural flowers worn by the women. The favorite blossoms of the moment are carnations for the street for two reasons. First, because of the variety of colors and second because they are the most lasting. There are great shaggy blossoms with the odor of cinnamon in yellows, pinks and mauve and one may choose just the proper tone to harmonize with the costume.

A specialty shop has a new kind of artificial flower which is unique and of course more economical than the natural ones. There are small arum lilies in yellow, pink red, purple and mauve with long slender green leaves are wired and beautifully made of organdie muslin.

This same shop is showing attractive evening bags of ostrich feathers to match the ostrich boas which have appeared once more. One in long fluffy feathers shading from pale yellow to deep orange has a large silk rose of the same shaded colors on one side. It is lined with yellow silk and has a yellow vanity-case and change purse.

There are also some lovely scarves for evening. One in pearl gray heavy silk brocaded in satin in diamond pattern is fringed at the ends and has a long narrow monogram embroidered in back.

DUKE UNIVERSITY NEW BUILDINGS SOON STARTED

By International News Service
DURHAM, N. C.—Dreams of years are just about to be realized at Duke University, and officials of the institution soon will be ready to place plans for the school's $20,000,000 plant in the hands of architects for final drafting.

These plans probably will be ready around September 1, according to an announcement by Dr. William Preston Few, president of the University.

"With this preliminary work out of the way," Dr. Few said, "it would seem that actual construction on the new university plant might be expected to begin within a comparatively short time."

Morgan county is the richest agricultural section on the northern boundaries of Alabama, Morgan farmers are buyers, encourage their trade in the Twin Cities, they will be glad to come here when they feel welcome.

Doctor Tells How To Make Teething Easier For Baby

When baby is fretful and cries while teething, especially during the spells, one or two doses of Teething are of precious value. This well known prescription of a baby doctor has been tested among millions of little ones who suffered from Colic, Gas, Sour Stomach, Cholera Morbi, Diarrhoea and such troubles.

"Our family physician recommended Teething when our first baby was teething," writes Mrs. F. J. Barker of Norman, Pa., Ga. "He was very sick but he soon commenced to get well. Now he is happy and playful again and we think Teething is a wonderful medicine for babies."

Dr. Moffett's Teething costs only 30¢ at any drugstore,

DON JUAN

Novel by
INER
SABASTIAN

Copyright, 1926, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
"Don Juan," screen play by Bess Meredith, starring John Barrymore, is a Warner Bros. picture, a production of the novel.

SYNOPSIS
Don Juan's father, disinterested by a faithless wife, warns him: "Destroy women or they will destroy you. Take their love scornfully and forget it." This advice has made Don Juan the greatest lover of all time, envied by men, adored by all women. Infamous Lucretia Borgia, at the peak of her power in Rome, invites him to her reception. Among the guests is exquisite Lady Adriana Varnese, coveted by Borgia's cousin, Donati. When Lucretia notices Don Juan's interest caught by Adriana, she warns him that Donati is the best swordsman in Europe.

CHAPTER IV
"Perhaps you are not aware that Donati is our best swordsman. He may resent your interest in his lady."
Lucretia Borgia's words had no meaning to Juan for an instant. He was much too busy with his thoughts as he gazed down at Adriana in the garden below. Then, suddenly, he caught Lucretia's meaning. He turned to her with an amused smile. And she, realizing that he knew that jealousy lay behind her desire to make him lose interest in Adriana, blushed for the first time in years.
Angry with herself for letting him understand her, and because of her own clumsiness that had made it possible she turned away from him. As she did so, she crossed the room and came to the balcony door. For an instant she stood there, until she caught Lucretia's eye. A glance passed between them, sharp, significant, yet for all their quickness Juan saw it, although apparently he was interested in nothing but the marvelously carved hilt of his sword.
Malia held at her side a small mirror, caught in a frame of exquisitely wrought gold. She held it out to her mistress, and Lucretia, with a smile of apology toward Juan, held it close to her face so that the light from the room within would strike it. Someone had written a message on the mirror's surface in a thick, white substance like soap. Lucretia read it at a glance.
"Neri awaits you," it ran, and was signed "Cesare."
She turned to Juan in dismissal, gave him her hand to kiss, but Juan, remembering various short and ugly tales about the Borgias, merely bent low over it. Lucretia's smile hid her disappointment. She turned away, and Juan, bowing again, went into the inner room.
Apparently he crossed it without a glance about him; in reality his eyes swept it and noted that, although the walls seemed merely four solid bits of beautiful paneling, one of these panels was just slipping into place. There was a tiny crack between it and the next panel, and in that crack was a man's face, a face with dark, burning eyes, sauntered on across the room, left it by the door leading to the wide hall and started down the great marble staircase. But he descended only a few steps. Then, turning quickly, he ran back to the top and stepped behind a pillar, standing so that he could look into the sitting room of Lucretia Borgia's private suite which he had just left.
Lucretia, watching from the balcony until she saw that Juan had left the room, crossed it to the panel which he had seen moving and, touching its hidden spring, caused it to open again. Within was a small room, containing but a few bits of furniture, whose walls were honeycombed with secret compartments. There were curious sinister things everywhere about it, all the equipment of Neri, the sorcerer, whose skill in devising secret poisons was so great that in all Europe there was none other like him.
From his place behind the post Juan could see a corner of the room and catch a glimpse of Neri himself. Puzzled, he stood staring. Then, shrugging his shoulders indifferently, he turned and went though apparently he was interested in nothing but the marvelously carved hilt of his sword.

Neri let three drops trickle into a smaller phial.

Malia held at her side a small mirror, caught in a frame of exquisitely wrought gold. She held it out to her mistress, and Lucretia, with a smile of apology toward Juan, held it close to her face so that the light from the room within would strike it. Someone had written a message on the mirror's surface in a thick, white substance like soap. Lucretia read it at a glance.
"Neri awaits you," it ran, and was signed "Cesare."
She turned to Juan in dismissal, gave him her hand to kiss, but Juan, remembering various short and ugly tales about the Borgias, merely bent low over it. Lucretia's smile hid her disappointment. She turned away, and Juan, bowing again, went into the inner room.
Apparently he crossed it without a glance about him; in reality his eyes swept it and noted that, although the walls seemed merely four solid bits of beautiful paneling, one of these panels was just slipping into place. There was a tiny crack between it and the next panel, and in that crack was a man's face, a face with dark, burning eyes, sauntered on across the room, left it by the door leading to the wide hall and started down the great marble staircase. But he descended only a few steps. Then, turning quickly, he ran back to the top and stepped behind a pillar, standing so that he could look into the sitting room of Lucretia Borgia's private suite which he had just left.
Lucretia, watching from the balcony until she saw that Juan had left the room, crossed it to the panel which he had seen moving and, touching its hidden spring, caused it to open again. Within was a small room, containing but a few bits of furniture, whose walls were honeycombed with secret compartments. There were curious sinister things everywhere about it, all the equipment of Neri, the sorcerer, whose skill in devising secret poisons was so great that in all Europe there was none other like him.
From his place behind the post Juan could see a corner of the room and catch a glimpse of Neri himself. Puzzled, he stood staring. Then, shrugging his shoulders indifferently, he turned and went

ILLIE THE TOILER

By RUSS WESTON

County Notes

HARTSELLE

Hartselle was the mecca Saturday for all the county candidates, and a great many aspirants for state offices were either here in person or had a representative present.

Mr. John Rogers of the state highway commission addressed the people for over two hours, and was finally persuaded to desist and give others the opportunity to make an address.

Following the address of Mr. Rogers in which he defended his position in regard to the state highway and the manner in which he had conducted the affairs of his office, and deemed the election of Mr. McDowell the only hope of the state from now on, Col. T. W. Tidwell made one of the best political speeches made at this point during the present heated campaign, regarded so by a great many well poised men who heard him.

The preliminary remarks of Mr. Tidwell were in great contrast to the statements of Mr. Rogers, especially when he referred to Mr. Patterson as "Andy Gump Patterson." Col. Tidwell referred to the aspirants for gubernatorial honors as all gentlemen, and did not indulge in any rancor, but in a masterful way tore to shreds the folly of a seventy-five thousand bond issue, and went into a minute discussion of how bonds are sold and handled, and was of the opinion that no sane concern would want to buy the bonds of a state in that amount when the tax rate would be higher than any state in the Union.

When Col. Tidwell announced that he was here to speak in the interest of Mr. Patterson, there was a generous amount of applause, every indication being that Mr. Patterson was the choice of a large per cent of the crowd.

The speaking started at noon and continued throughout the afternoon, some of the candidates for the legislature also making addresses. Mr. Musgrove also had a representative here who made an address.

It is safe to say that there was more hand shaking in Hartselle Saturday than for any one day in at least the past four years.

For the office of governor Mr. Patterson will undoubtedly carry at a standstill.

JUST LIKE A MAN

Old Tom Johnson's Bird Curse Still Brings Atlanta Annual Visitation

BY JULIAN CAPERS, JR.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ATLANTA, Ga.—Old Tom Johnson's curse is still a potent power for evil, after more than 60 years. Residents of the neighborhood of Capitol avenue and Love street, at any rate, blame the curse placed on that section by "Old Tom" before the War Between the States for the annual visitation of thousands of martins, which swarm in the beautiful trees and make life miserable for folks living nearby for a week at a time.

The martin is a small, black bird, which doesn't sing, but emits a shrill, piercing, twittering call that raps the nerves, and makes sleep impossible, particularly when it is emitted simultaneously by thousands of birds, and continues incessantly for hours at a time.

Each year in the summer the birds swarm in flocks that darken the sky in this neighborhood, where they remain for about a week, making life miserable for householders.

An old legend explains the presence of the birds.

According to the story, one Tom Johnson, a well-fixed farmer, in the ante-bellum days, lived in this neighborhood which was then a cross-roads settlement, on the edge of the village of Atlanta. Tom was a liberal spender and a devoted patron at the "Two Toms Inn," a tavern famous in those days.

Eventually, Johnson's love of strong drink, the story has it, brought adversity to him. He spent all his money, lost his property, and became a penniless hanger-on.

He was ejected from the tavern one summer afternoon, and standing at the cross-roads, he invoked the power of the Evil One, and pronounced a bitter curse for a hundred years upon the head of the tavern-keeper.

Within a few minutes, the first swarming of the martins ever known, old residents say, was under way.

And so, each summer, the pestiferous creatures return.

Police were called by distressed householders the other day, when the annual invasion got under way. With sawed-off riot shotguns, they shot more than 400 birds out of the ancient oak trees. But was only a drop in the bucket, and thousands of martins continued their convention for three days and nights.

Amateur naturalists assert that the birds, on an annual migration, are attracted by the ancient oak trees, which offer an ideal swarming place. The martins are creatures of habit, they say, and gather year after year at the same places on their migratory flight.

But old citizens laugh at this explanation, and give "Old Tom" credit for the curse, which has some 40 years yet to operate, they say.

Mr. and Mrs. Estelle Crowe who is attending state normal at Florence, Ala., was the week-end guest of home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Thompson of Albany spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McLory.

Mr. and Mrs. Brandon Crafton motored to Pulaski, Tenn., Sunday afternoon.

GADSDEN, Ala., Aug. 10.—(AP)—D. R. Smith caught a 90-pound blue catfish on a bankhook at Lister Ferry on the Coosa river recently. It was one of the largest catfish ever seen here.

Farmers in the vicinity say they have seen the fish several years and have watched it frequently jumping from the water.

"ORIGINAL WASHINGTON" IS JEALOUS OF CAPITAL

By International News Service
WASHINGTON, N. C.—Washington, D. C., or Washington, N. C.?

The little tidewater town is determined that the world shall know the whole truth about the North Carolina, Washington.

Washington, N. C., automobiles now carry tags proclaiming it the "Original Washington," and giving the date of its founding in the 18th century.

And the tags are beginning to attract attention. Recently a local minister showed up in Washington, D. C., with one of the tags, and it attracted so much attention that a Washington newspaper printed a picture of the automobile and the tag.

A theater will be built at Gadsden.

Fairfield is considering a white way system.

Rates for Daily Classified Ads

25 words or less, 1 time	$.25
25 words or less, 3 times	$.50
25 words or less, 6 times	$1.00

Each word over 25: 1 time, 1c; 2 times, 2c; 6 times, 4c.
A collection charge of 5c per ad is made when phoned in.

CLOSING TIME, 10:30 A. M.
Classified advertisements received after 10:30 a.m. will not be published until the next day.

TRY A 3- OR 6-TIME AD
It costs proportionately less and produces more.

TELEPHONE YOUR WANTS TO ALBANY 46

Carrier subscribers residing in Albany or Decatur may now phone their want ads to The Daily office and carrier boy will collect. A collection fee of 5 cents per want ad is charged when phoned in.

FOR SALE—Barbecue pen, business and tourist camp on state highway belonging to Mr. Johnson. If you want to make money by the sackful, get this wonderful money making proposition. Cash or terms to suit. J. A. Thornhill.

FOR SALE—Good second hand sorghum mill. J. L. Echols.

FOR SALE—Windshields, any make by C. E. Malone.

FOR SALE—Band saw, also engines and boilers for gins and sawmills. Terms to suit. J. A. Foundry and Machine Co., Decatur, Ala.

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—Three furnished rooms with private bath. Telephone 274-J. Albany, or apartment 426, Grant St.

FOR RENT—Cottage on corner Church and Line street, and room apartment on Line street. Private bath; sink in kitchen; modern conveniences. Apply to E. LaFayette. Phone Decatur 245-W.

FOR RENT—1714 Fifth avenue. Immediate possession. Call Wolcott & Rankin. Phone Albany 47.

FOR RENT—One 4 room apartment. Private entrance. All modern conveniences and centrally located. Phone Albany 47.

MISCELLANEOUS
BY SPECIAL appointment we are headquarters for the famous Battle Creek Sanitarium Food. Come in and learn what healthful living will do for you and your family. Ask for a free copy of "Healthful Living." J. T. Towns Grocery, 110 W. Church st. 10-61.

BRING YOUR CORN to I. J. Mason store and mill near Benevolent hospital. Fresh ground meal at all times. Exchange meal for corn. Luke Holandsworth and mill 6-61.

WANTED—Bright young man for education for office work. Some experience necessary. Apply with hand-writing and give references. Address P. O. Box 557, Decatur, Ala. 10-31.

WANTED—Shelled corn, any quantity. Decatur Mill & Elevator Co., Bank St. and Tennessee River, Decatur. 3-12.

WANTED—Twenty-five good painters. Apply gate 6:30 Friday morning. Koss Construction Company. 6-41.

LOST OR FOUND
GALVANIZED ROOFING—All lengths; prompt deliveries; best prices; see us. John D. Wyke & Son. 4-41.

LOST—Brief case, containing Brown Shoe Co. stationery. Initials "T. M. S." Liberal reward for delivery to Hilda Hot 7-41.

POULTRY MARKET

(Furnished by E. T. Gray & Sons)

Hens	16 to 18 cents pound
Priests	18 to 20 cents pound
Stags	12 cents pound
Coxs	6 cents pound
Ducks	8 cents pound
Geese	5 cents pound
Guineas	15 cents each
Turkeys	10 cents pound
Eggs	22 cents dozen
Butter	15 cents pound

LOCAL SPOTS

(Furnished by Williamson, Iman and Stribling)

Strict Middling	17.25
Low	13.00
Strict Low	12.50
Middling	14.00

Re-roof for the last time

with Johns-Manville
Asbestos Shingles

Lay them right over the old roof

NO dust, dirt, danger of damage by rain while the work is in progress; no delay or inconvenience at all. And you'll have a double roof that will make your upper rooms warmer in winter and cooler in summer.

The finished roofing of Johns-Manville Asbestos Shingles will be everlasting and positively fireproof. It will make your home safe from roof-communicated fire. It will be attractive. It will never have to be renewed or painted because Johns-Manville Asbestos Shingles are all mineral. They will not rot, burn, curl or split, but last as long as the building they protect. They're approved by the Underwriters and take base rates of insurance.

If your present wooden or asphalt shingle roof needs repairs or replacement, it will certainly pay you to investigate this improved method of re-roofing. Its simplicity, economy and freedom from dirt and confusion will be a revelation to you.

Write, call or telephone today for further particulars and booklet "Re-roofing for the Last Time."

MALONE COAL
& GRAIN CO.

Phone Albany 13

The bolder a man gets on top of his head, the faster the hair seems to grow around the edges.

Little Bobbie: Mother, have I been a good boy lately?

Mother: Yes, dear, a very good boy.

Bobbie: And do you trust me, mother?

Mother: Why, of course, mother trusts you, son.

Bobbie: Then why do you go on hiding the jam?

Suicide is all wrong. No man has a right to kill himself and leave his share of the taxes for the rest of us to pay.

"That's a new one on me," said the monkey as he scratched his back.

COMPENSATION

We note as we read, men with chins recede.

Are always prognathous in print: Men with jaws that stick out and whose whisper's a shout.

Write pale stuff of pacifist tint. Men with hair on the chest seldom write of the West;

If so, they are never convincing. Men hairless and mild write words wolly and wild;

They never could speak without wincing.

Chaps painfully shy when the ladies are by.

Will skin 'em alive in the papers; Keep this law well in mind as you read and you'll find

It accounts for some comical capers.

"But look," reports a local sheik as arguing after he had been repulsed by a flapper when he sought to kiss her, "look how they kiss in the movies." "I know, but they get paid for it," she yawned.

"That's disgusting! You put back toothpicks after using them!"

"I want you to understand, sir, that I am an honest man."

"There may be something in this after all," said the revenue agent as he put his lips to the bottle.

She was only the daughter of a mayor but she knew her oats.

We seldom see a man so honest that he says to his wife, "Where did I leave my hat?" He usually asks, "Where did you put it?"

Some men go to college, while others just dress funny and let it go at that.

'STRUTH

Little old joke

Now don't you cry, You'll be a comic strip By and by.

The other day a widower with nine children married a widow with six children, and instead of marriage they called it a merger.

Suitor—"Mr. Perkins, I have courted your daughter for fifteen years."

Perkins—"Well, what do you want?"

Suitor—"To marry her."

Perkins—"Well, I'll be darned. I thought you wanted a pension or something."

The grounds for divorce are just about as sensible as the grounds for matrimony.

Young man in a street car (handing her vanity case to the pretty young thing who has dropped it):

"Keep that school-girl complexion."

Two million years from now scientists can start a row by claiming that the creatures of that period descended from man.

Lost time is something we never hunt for.

Artificial Lake Mecca For Picnics

SPRINGFIELD, Ala., Aug. 10.—(AP)—The artificial lake in the heart of this city is attracting many summer picnickers to its banks to watch the pet carp in their antics as they rush through the water or lie lazily on the bottom of the lake.

The lake has long been the gathering place of visitors who delight in watching the fish as they come to the surface to eat from the hands of persons who have bread or crackers to feed them.

The Tuscaloosa Cotton Oil Company is ready for fall business, new machinery having been installed.

HOW THEY STAND

SOUTHERN LEAGUE

Clubs—	Won	Lost	Pct.
New Orleans	75	38	.664
Birmingham	66	43	.605
Memphis	69	46	.560
Nashville	59	53	.527
Atlanta	53	57	.482
Mobile	47	66	.416
Chattanooga	40	68	.370
Little Rock	36	74	.327

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Clubs—	Won	Lost	Pct.
New York	71	38	.651
Cleveland	63	49	.563
Philadelphia	58	52	.527
Detroit	57	55	.509
Chicago	56	55	.505
Washington	53	54	.495
St. Louis	46	63	.422
Boston	35	73	.324

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Clubs—	Won	Lost	Pct.
Pittsburgh	60	44	.577
St. Louis	59	49	.546
Cincinnati	60	50	.545
New York	56	51	.523
Chicago	56	51	.523
Brooklyn	52	57	.477
Boston	44	62	.415
Philadelphia	40	63	.388

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

Clubs—	Won	Lost	Pct.
Louisville	71	40	.640
Milwaukee	70	41	.631
Indianapolis	68	45	.602
Toledo	58	50	.537
Kansas City	54	60	.474
St. Paul	51	61	.455
Minneapolis	45	65	.409
Columbus	28	83	.252

WHERE THEY PLAY TODAY

SOUTHERN LEAGUE
Memphis at Birmingham.
Little Rock at Atlanta.
(Only games scheduled.)

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Boston at St. Louis.
Washington at Cleveland.
New York at Detroit.
Philadelphia at Chicago.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
St. Louis at Boston.
Brooklyn at Chicago.
Philadelphia at Pittsburgh.
New York at Cincinnati.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION
Toledo at St. Paul.
Columbus at Minneapolis.
Indianapolis at Kansas City.
Louisville at Milwaukee.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

SOUTHERN LEAGUE
Memphis 6; Birmingham 7.
Little Rock at Atlanta, rain.
Chattanooga at New Orleans, wet ground.
(Nashville and Mobile unscheduled.)

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Boston 7; St. Louis 5.
Washington 5; Cleveland 7.
New York 9; Detroit 8.
Philadelphia 2; Chicago 1.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
St. Louis 0; Boston 5.
Chicago 3; New York 4.
Pittsburgh 9; Brooklyn 3.
Cincinnati 4-10; Philadelphia 7-5.

Large Bear Is Slain At Camden

CAMDEN, Ala., Aug. 10.—(AP)—A large bear was killed at Camp 11, near Vredenburgh, in Monroe county, a few days ago, and the skin has been sent to a taxidermist to be dressed for a rug.

It is supposed the timber cutting on the lower river caused the bear to wander from his haunts.

FRANCE OFFERS MONUMENT TO THE SAVIOUR OF PARIS

By International News Service—PARIS.—General Gallieni, the saviour of Paris and the victor of von Kluck is commemorated in a monument which has been unveiled to his memory by the Maritime and Colonial League. The man who marshalled a thousand taxis to rush up to the Marne from Paris a French army is represented listening to the voice of Victory.

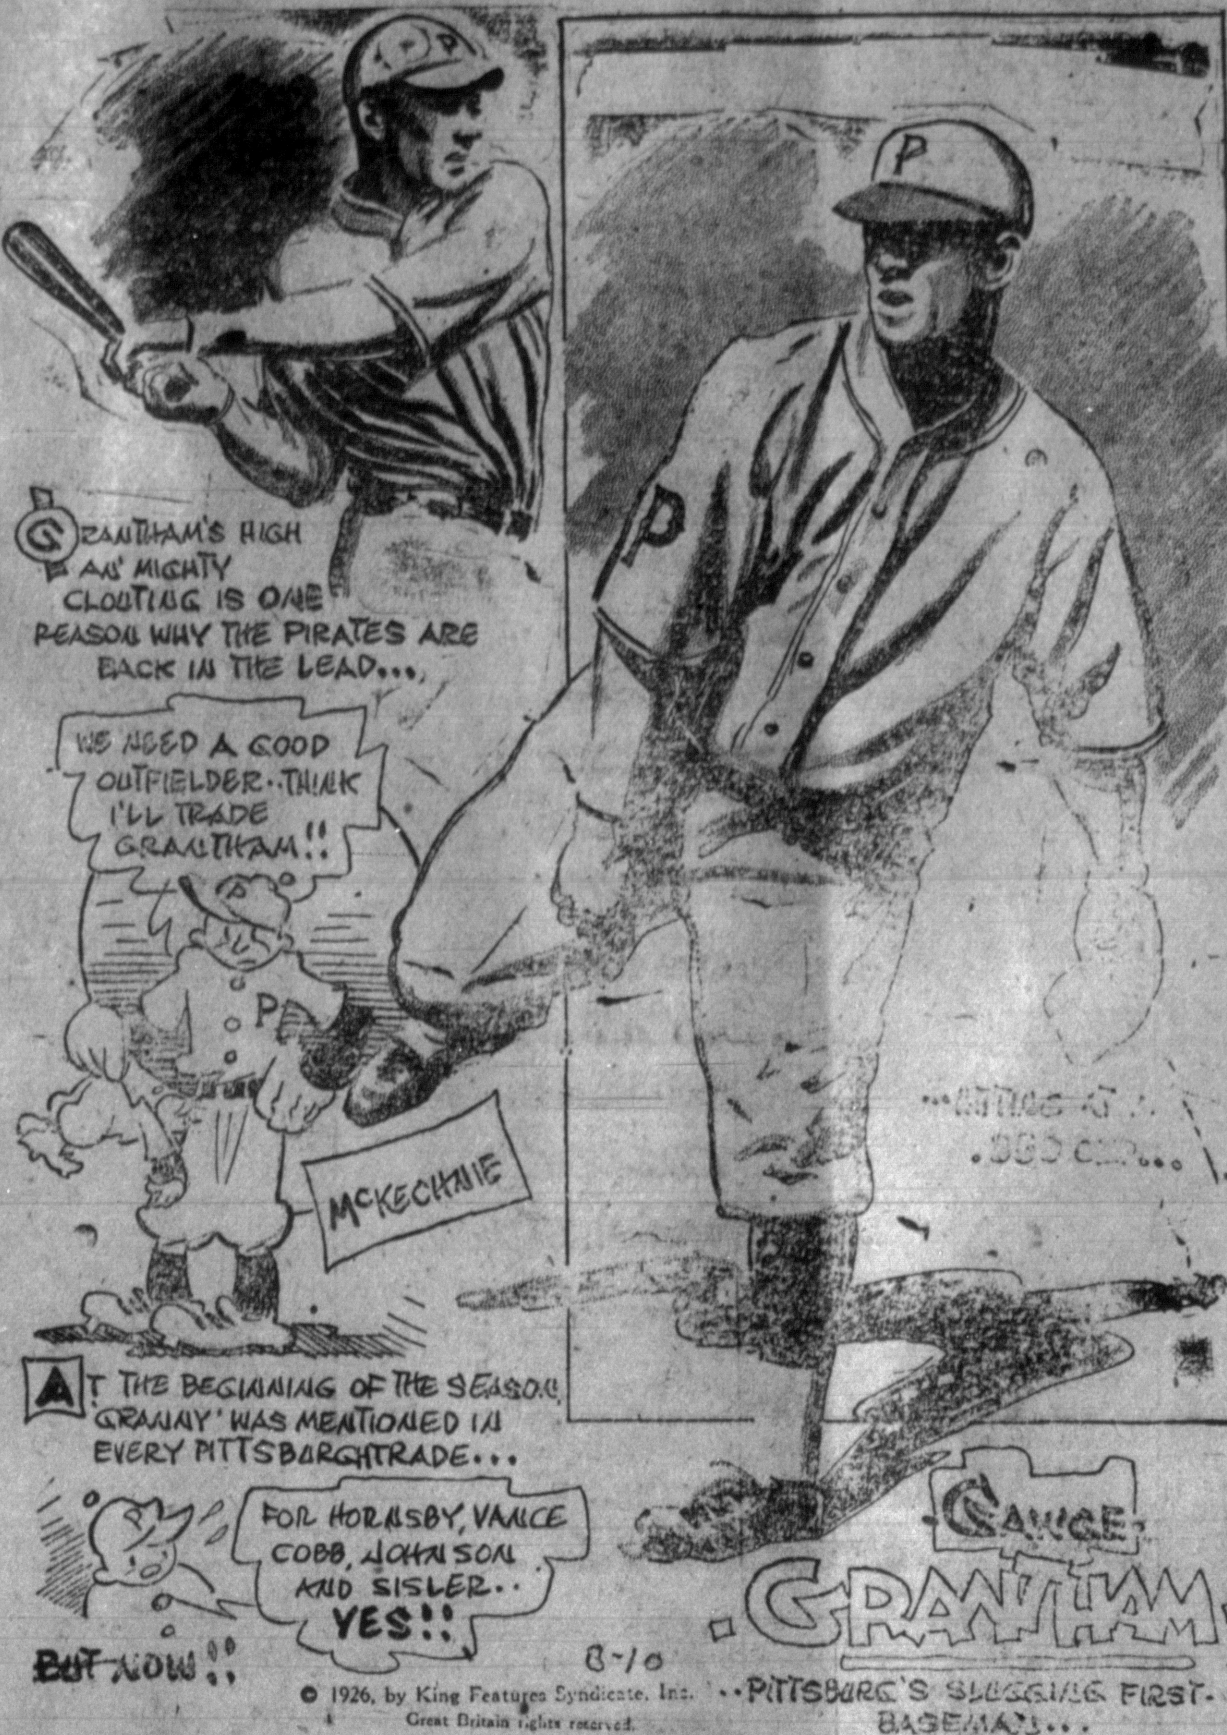

Gaston Doumergue, president of the Republic was present and others were Lord Crewe, the English Ambassador, Ambassador Herriek and many others of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies.

The statue is the work of Jean Boucher and bears on the pedestal an inscription bearing Gallieni's famous Order of the Day when the German army was approaching Paris:

"I have received the order to defend Paris that order I shall carry out to the end."

Buy from our advertisers, they pay for the space in this newspaper to tell you of the seasonable merchandise they have to offer you. Patronize home institutions.

LETTING GEORGE DO IT

SPORTS

Barons Move Into Second Place With Fourth Straight From Chicks

The Barons are back in second place after their fourth straight win from the Chicks. The Barons took Memphis into camp yesterday with a 7-6 verdict, featured by early rallies on the part of both teams.

Curley Odgen started the game for Dobbs, but after some miserable support on the part of Johnny Chapman and some heavy hitting by Barrett he was removed in favor of Harry Kelley who managed to save the game for Curley. The Barons have moved into second place by a margin of six points. They gained a half game on the flying Pels yesterday while the Pels were idle, but the Pels really have very little to worry over they are eight games in the lead and that looks rather uninteresting from a Baron standpoint. The Dobbsmen will have to play almost perfect baseball while the Pels are wallowing around in a slump if the New Orleans club is to be overhauled this year.

Other activity in the Southern league was stopped yesterday by generous downpours.

Football talk is beginning to rouse from a summer slumber with the occasional breezes that remind of fall. No noise has been heard from the Albany camp as yet, due to the fact that no announcement has been made regarding the coaching choice for the year. It is understood that Coach Alford had considered returning here for another year, but no definite information has been given on the subject. Alford lost some several good pounds of football material by graduation, but it is likely that new material will put in an appearance and that Albany high can be counted upon to swing a few teams on the losing side of the season standing when the cooling days of October bring the Purple warriors back on the field.

The games will all be played at Malone Park this year, the Decatur Ice & Coal company having placed the old Cooper-Wells battlegrounds in complete refrigeration for all time.

The Giants are regaining their stride, they now have a tie in fourth place, tailenders of the first division, with the Chicago Cubs, having defeated that club 4-3 behind the good hurling arm of Kent Greenfield. The Giants are a coming ball club and if others in the National don't watch their step the Giants are going to pull a sensational finish that will net them a title and place another world series all for New York, the Yanks having practically scuffed all issues concerning candidacy for the American League pennant.

The Giants started slow, played indifferent ball for a long time, but with nearly two months left they might yet get into the role of lead contenders.

The Pirates continued to win yesterday 9-3, batting Jess Petty from the box after Brooklyn had shown promise of breaking their eight game losing streak.

The Cards lost a verdict to the Braves yesterday when they were blanked by a 5-0 count. Benton yielded but five blows for the afternoon and consequently held the Cards within a one point lead of Cincinnati now resting in third place and ready for a last minute drive pennantward.

The National league race is bunched from the first to fifth place teams and there promises to be much stir in National league camps before the chilling October winds announce who is going to be the pennant challenger.

In the American league Walter Johnson took another beating at the hands of the Indians. Johnson sailed along nicely for the first three innings and then in the fourth frame with a pair of Indians on the sacks Tris Speaker cut loose with a home run that sent all Indians in sight scampering across the pan. The Senators out-hit the Indians 14-9, but Cleveland bunched hits in the fifth to put over four runs adding to the 7-5 victory for themselves.

Macks beat Chicago 2-1 with Walberg and Lyons getting into a hurlers duel. Walberg stopped the Sox with four blows.

Babe Ruth hit his 36th homer of the year yesterday with one man on the sacks, Tony Lazzeri also clouted a circuit blow with two ahead of him. Detroit rallied late to catch the Yanks but fell short in the ninth with four runs chased across.

Black Sox Face Pulaski Tigers

Decatur Black Sox, negro team, are facing the Pulaski Tigers down at Malone Park this afternoon, provided the weather man decrees sun rather than showers. The Black Sox have been playing good ball lately and are planning to ring up a good percentage for amateur ball before the October days bring an order of moth balls to diamond cleats.

Local Team Will Go Away Thursday

Albany-Decatur will leave aboard Southern train 36 Thursday afternoon for a trip into Limestone county where the local club enters a bid for victory against Madison. It was stated today that either Lowery or Hill will be chosen for hurling duty, while McCann will do the receiving stunt. Madison is declared to have a strong contender and will likely show the local lads some hard traveling before the verdict is gained.

Oneonta will soon be served by the Alabama Power Company. The line to Oneonta is being pushed to completion.

at 9 tonight take KLOK-LAX
for constipation

NR TO-NIGHT
TOMORROW ALRIGHT

A Vegetable Relief For Constipation

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) a vegetable laxative with a pleasant, near-to-nature action. Relieves and prevents biliousness, constipation and sick headaches. Tones and strengthens the digestion and assimilation.

Get 25c. Box. Used for over 30 years.

Jrs Chips off the Old Block

NR JUNIORS—Little NRs

The same NR—in one-third dose, candy-coated. For children and adults.

SOLD BY YOUR DRUGGIST DILLEHAY BROS.

Fred Couch, who has been working in Decatur the last four years, is now employed at Moyer's Barber Shop and wishes his friends and customers to continue favoring him with their patronage and influence.

Moyer's Barber Shop, 2nd Ave.

That they may carry on

Look into the face of your boy or girl.

There's fine stuff there—that lift of the head is pride—there is intelligence in the level eyes.

A man or woman of the South—in the making.

Our children live in a day of high pressure. The South has taken its place in the front ranks of industry. Modern methods of manufacture, scientific farming, improved transportation—all are factors in building the industrial South. This development brings with it many changes in our customs and habits.

But we must hold fast to the idealism of the Old South—the ideal of useful and intelligent citizenship. The children must carry it on.

This is primarily a matter of education.

The average year's pay of teachers in elementary and secondary schools in the states of the South served by the Southern is only $637. Southern Railway System, which pays three million dollars per annum in school taxes, ventures to express the view that greater material rewards should be enjoyed by the men and women upon whom rests the responsibility of teaching the children of the South.

"—knowledge being necessary to good government and the happiness of mankind, schools and the means of education shall forever be encouraged."

From the Constitution of the state of North Carolina.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY SYSTEM

The Southern serves the South

H. O. 182
A. O. 281
April 21, 1926

1926-9

for home heating

Buy Gas Coke Now

at these Summer prices

Pay October 1st

SPECIAL summer prices on gas coke, prepared and sold by Alabama Power Company for domestic use in furnaces and stoves, will prevail from

July 24th to September 24th

Orders for two tons or more for domestic use will be delivered now at these summer prices and the bill rendered October 1st. Cut the cost of next Winter's heating bills and at the same time know the pleasure of a really clean fuel.

Prices Domestic Users

Forked Coke $6.00 a ton
Run of Pile Coke $5.50 a ton

Delivered at Your Home

Coke and Beauty

Disfigured woodwork, discolored draperies and a layer of soot over your place and your neighbor's—these are things that the use of coal brings. Coke, free from soot and grime, will keep your own house and those about you clean. Coke helps make the City Beautiful.

Place Your Order Now With The

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

Alabama Power Co.